

ELLIOTT 2009 MARIESS GRAPHIC DESIGN CV

ABOUT ME

> I have been around creative people since I was young. My mother is a professional photographer and my father is an advertising marketing director, so I was bought up using programs like photoshop. After at about the age of 14 I was designing album layouts for my mothers business.

I was only ever interested in art and music at school, so I took a 2 year full time art and design course at Grange house and it was then my teacher suggested I might like graphic design.

In the summer of 2006, I had the great opportunity of working the full summer at Specsavers in their creative department, designing inhouse and commercial work. I really enjoyed it and learnt a lot from the experience. I was lucky enough to have been asked back every Easter, Christmas and summer break until the end of my degree.

During Easter (07) I taught myself a little HTML and began designing my own web sites. I quite enjoy it and hope to expand my knowledge in the area as I'm a keen learner.

I'm currently studying graphics at Kingston in my third year.
